

Words, lines and letters

(Music/lyrics: © Peter van Vleuten)

Armstrong had a rocket
Columbus had a boat
Me, I got a locket
With a picture and a note
And it takes me to my baby
The one I'm thinking of Every time I miss her
I've got a pocket full of love

*I've got words and lines and letters
Coming from the heart
They bring me smiles and whispers
When we're miles and miles apart
And they tell me how you love me
As they sweet-talk tenderly
I've got words and lines and letters
To keep you close to me*

We all keep the memories
From way, back long ago
Sweethearts and lovers
The ones we used to know
Romance and confessions
Poetry and rhyme
Preserved in ink and paper
Take me back in time

*All those words and lines and letters
Coming from the heart
Still bring me smiles and whispers
Though we're years and years apart
And they tell me how you loved me
And they sweet-talk tenderly
Those words and lines and letters
To keep you close to me*

From the 'darling I love you'
All the way to the x's and o's
Every page is a memory
Of the lovers we used to be
It's the story of you and me
And the way that story goes

*Words, lines and letters
Coming from the heart
Bring me smiles and whispers
Though we're years and years apart
And they tell me how you loved me
As you sweet-talked tenderly
Those words and lines and letters
They keep you close to me*

BOTMAN
&
VAN VLEUTEN